

LEGISLATURE ADOPTS MEASURES DESIGNED TO RELIEVE HOUSING SHORTAGE; WILL INVESTIGATE CHARGES OF A BUILDING MATERIAL "COMBINE"

LAWS ARE DRASTIC

One Virtually Suspends Dispossession Proceedings, Thus Preventing Evictions on October 1st

HYLAN BILLS SIDETRACKED

Mayor's Proposal for Municipal Auto Bus Line in New York Also Fails of Action

Albany, Sept. 24.—The program of the joint housing committee of the legislature formulated to relieve the housing shortage situation, was adopted by the extraordinary session of the legislature, which adjourned tonight after completing its work. All but one of the recommendations of the joint committee were passed in the form of bills designed to alleviate the conditions existing in New York city and other centers of population.

The only recommendation of the committee that failed to meet with legislative approval was that proposing to exempt interest on mortgages from the operation of the state income tax law, provided that congress enact legislation exempting such interest from the operation of the federal income tax.

Chief among the recommendations that received favorable action was a resolution providing for an investigation by the joint committee on housing of charges that a combination of dealers in building materials had conspired to maintain prices at a high level. The resolution continues the life of the joint housing committee and gives it power to make the investigation into the alleged building combine, as well as into towing charges on the state's waterways. It also directs the committee to investigate means of obtaining greater financial assistance for housing from insurance companies and savings banks.

For the purpose of preventing wholesale evictions of tenants from homes on October 1, the legislature passed a bill virtually suspending dispossession proceedings. In urging its passage, Assemblyman George R. Fearon of Oneonta, chairman of the cities committee, declared it would do away with the anxiety of many people who are holding their premises under short stays or have been served with notices to move on October 1. The notices served upon persons that they will be required to vacate on October 1, he said, will be wholly ineffectual after the enactment of this law.

"If you don't pass this legislation, there are going to be riots in New York," Mr. Fearon declared.

HYLAN'S BILLS SIDETRACKED

Five bills comprising the housing program of Mayor Hyman of New York were sidetracked in the assembly tonight, after having passed the senate. Minority Leader Donohue fought gamely to rescue them from the oblivion of a committee reference, but failed by a vote of 54 to 38.

During the debate on the Hyman measures, Speaker Sweet left the rostrum and spoke from the floor. He declared that although the housing committee had been functioning for several months and had held many hearings in New York, neither Mayor Hyman nor his corporation counsel had ever suggested to the committee any part of the legislation they now sought to have enacted.

By the same vote of 54 to 38, Mayor Hyman's proposal for a municipally owned motor bus line in New York failed of favorable consideration in the assembly after a successful trip through the senate.

The housing and rent bills passed in the closing hours of the extraordinary session provide for:

- The virtual suspension of dispossession proceedings except that landlords are privileged to evict tenants who hold over after proving to the satisfaction of the courts that the tenant is objectionable; where the owner seeks to evict a tenant, the premises for as long as a dwelling, or where the owner wishes to demolish the premises with the intention of constructing a new building, plans for which shall have been duly filed and approved by the proper authorities, and the court has been convinced that the owner is sincere in his determination to rebuild.

Under the elimination of the clause in one of the rent bills passed at the last regular session of the legislature, limiting the rent increase to 25 percent, no non-payment proceedings are maintainable under the new measure. Where the rent has been increased over the amount for which the tenant was liable for the preceding month, if the landlord has attempted to increase the rent, his remedies will be in action for the rent. Hotels containing 125 rooms or more, and rooming houses occupied under a hiring for a week or less, are exempted. The exemption of new dwellings from local taxation for ten years, providing construction has been started before April 1, 1922, and completed in two years. The buildings must be at least four stories in height in order to receive the exemption benefit, and the ground floor may be used for business purposes.

The exclusion of Rochester and Buffalo from the provisions of the bill virtually suspending dispossession proceedings. The Sage bill appropriating $325,000 for the expenses of the extraordinary session and for the payment of judgments against the state up to the present time, also was passed and sent to the Governor.

Other bills passed during the week are designed to give the state and municipalities, and political subdivisions of the state, permission to invest their sinking and trust funds in bonds of the state land bank; give courts power to vacate dispossession warrants, and stays in non-payment or hold-over proceedings pending an appeal; lengthening the time in which a precept in summary proceedings must be made returnable and requiring that a precept must be served at least five days before it is returnable; and making any lesser agent, manager, superintendent or janitor of any building who willfully violates terms of leases requiring the furnishing of water and other facilities guilty of a misdemeanor.

POLES REPULSE REDS, KILLING 1,000 MEN

Warsaw, Sept. 23.—(By the Associated Press).—After 14 successive attacks by three Bolshevik divisions on the front south of Grodno, all of which the Poles repulsed, says tonight's Polish official statement, 1,000 Russian dead were left on the field. Hostilities between the Poles and Lithuanians have been resumed with renewed vigor, according to the communique.

SMITH AND WALKER FORMALLY NOTIFIED

Governor Vigorously Defends Administration and Attacks Republican Legislature

Albany, Sept. 24.—A vigorous defense of his administration, praise of his party associates in the legislature, and criticism of the Republican legislature, were contained in Governor Alfred E. Smith's speech of acceptance when formally notified of his nomination as Democratic gubernatorial candidate tonight.

Discussing the difficulties he had encountered in the legislature over his welfare program, Governor Smith asserted that if the assembly had spent one-quarter of the time, money and energy it did to "throw fire duty" on the assemblymen, it would have been better.

The notification ceremony brought forth a crowd which packed the hall in which they took place. Not only was the governor formally told of the honor conferred upon him by his party, but other state officers, as well as lieutenant Governor Harry C. Walker, the party's nominee for United States senator, also were informed.

Previous to the ceremonies, an old-fashioned political parade, with bands and drum corps, and including in its ranks a delegation of Governor Smith's New York city admirers, marched through the principal streets of the city.

The official notification address was delivered by former Judge D. Cady Herrick, a veteran Albany Democrat, who also made the notification speech at the beginning of Governor Smith's campaign two years ago.

Lieutenant Governor Harry C. Walker was also notified of his nomination for the United States senate tonight. In his speech of nomination, "sustained by the presence in my party of an abundance of progressive thought and action, and determined on my account to be representative of all the people and not any group, class or special interests," I am proud that the manner in which the Democratic party accorded me the nomination leaves me free of obligation to anyone save the people. I am encouraged to feel that repudiation of the last vestige of misrepresentation and arbitrariness adherence to reactionary and worn-out policies is uppermost in the popular mind. The people will have progress."

Mr. Walker characterized the platform adopted at San Francisco as a "concise and comprehensive declaration of principles, admitting of no doubt or uncertainty."

"The platform adopted by the Democratic party at Saratoga," he added, "is a forceful and accurate presentation of the position of the party in the state of New York. I unhesitatingly endorse both, and upon the enunciations therein contained, I shall seek election."

COMPROMISE PHONE RATE BILL PASSED

Gives Public Service Commission Power to Accept or Reject Increases in Rates

Albany, Sept. 24.—The Gibbs telephone rate suspension bill, a compromise measure which is reported to be acceptable to the State Conference of Mayors and telephone companies, was passed by both houses of the legislature today.

The measure was declared to be a "victory for telephone consumers" by Assemblyman George F. Fearon of Syracuse.

Provisions of the measure, which applies statewide but not in New York city, are intended to provide that the telephone companies shall file a bond with the Public Service Commission in the present litigation over increased rates which went into effect last September 1. If the commission, after a hearing, determines that the increase is unfair, the consumers will be given rebates from the time the bill becomes a law.

The telephone companies also are prevented under terms of the bill to put new increased rates into effect unless approved by the commission. And it is stipulated that the burden of proof of the reasonableness of any increased rates must be borne by the companies.

Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara and Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, of New York, declared the measure did not go far enough. Mr. Cuvillier pointed out that Governor Smith in his special message recommended that the legislature take in telegraph, gas, steam and water companies.

GOVERNOR COX RENEWS ATTACK

Charges Republican Newspapers With "Conspiracy of Silence" Against Democratic Cause

ASSAILS WILL HAYS

Says G. O. P. Chairman Is Inciting "Poisonous" Campaign Among Editors

Denver, Col., Sept. 24.—Attacks upon Chairman Hays of the Republican National committee, and Republican newspapers charged with a "conspiracy of silence" against the Democratic cause, featured today's Colorado campaign of Governor James M. Cox of Ohio.

The new line of assault of the Democratic Presidential candidate, who charged that Mr. Hays, acting for the Republican National committee, and Republican newspaper editors, were conspiring to suppress news and divert issues of the Cox campaign, was made by the Governor in three Colorado speeches today at Trinidad, Pueblo and at a large meeting here tonight at the Auditorium.

"Poisoning" was the term applied by Governor Cox in his charges regarding the Republican newspapers, and he likened Chairman Hays to the "smoking guerrilla who, in days of old, poisoned wells for the destruction of enemies."

Mr. Hays, the candidate declared, sent an advance agent to confer with Colorado editors, as well as to New Mexico, to plan the alleged undermining of the Democratic campaign.

Last Monday at Denver, Governor Cox asserted in his Pueblo speech, editors of Colorado Republican newspapers assembled for a conference with a Mr. Stephens, said to have been an agent of Chairman Hays.

Direct Public From League. "The editors were asked to divert the public mind from the League and other paramount issues," said the governor. "To minor affairs. They were told to ask question thought to be embarrassing and to give unfavorable reports on my recptions."

"The Republican national committee is maintaining a large organization for this purpose. It has men traveling all over the country, and the funds of the Republican organization are being used to make this kind of a campaign at a time when humanity is to pass on the great question involving more interests and more people than at any time in the history of the world."

"The rich men of America who are living in comfort," the governor continued, reiterating charges of "big business" contributions to the Republicans, "certainly ought to be proud of the fact that they have made it possible for Hays to conduct this kind of a campaign. The reason is that it is apparent to any unprejudiced person that the west is overwhelmingly for the League of Nations and that the majority of the west will so record themselves."

The League of Nations issue, which the governor said the Republicans were trying to "sidetrack" in the newspapers, progressivism, labor, and reclamation, were other major topics of the candidate's Colorado addresses. He also assailed "big business" for alleged aid to the Republican cause and the use, he declared, of its "corruption fund" in newspaper effort he imputed to Chairman Hays. Attacks upon the "senatorial oligarchy" and Senator Harding as its reactionary candidate, also were repeated.

Thousands heard the Democratic nominee tonight at the auditorium.

Roosevelt Makes Two Speeches

Syracuse, Sept. 24.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic nominee for vice president, made two addresses tonight on his speaking tour in Northern New York. Early in the evening, Mr. Roosevelt delivered an address in Oswego and later tonight talked at the Black River Valley club in Watertown.

In Oswego, Mr. Roosevelt spoke from a hotel balcony. He was introduced by Mayor Fitzgibbon. The candidate declared the Democratic ticket was before the people on a progressive platform. He paid his tribute to Governor Cox, his running mate, and lauded the governor's record as executive of Ohio during the war. Mr. Roosevelt said he was being introduced by the League of Nations and said it was being opposed by the Republicans for purely partisan reasons. The present Democratic administration, he said, was here tonight.

Mr. Roosevelt did not reach Watertown until after 10 o'clock. In his address at the Black River Valley club, he said that a campaign of falsehood was being carried on by the Republicans. He also declared that the Republican campaign is distorting issues to suit the desires of audiences, and said this was particularly true with respect to the League of Nations. He criticized Senator Harding's executive committee of the International Association of Machinists and approved by the convention of the association, which is in session here.

He will speak at Charleston, W. Va., on the night of September 30 instead of at Huntington, W. Va.

WOULD UNFURL FLAG ON SEAS

Senator Harding Assails Wilson Merchant Marine Policy in Front Porch Speech

"CONTINUAL FIASCO"

Nominee Declares Purpose to Establish Economical and Efficient Business Administration

Marion, Sept. 24.—The administration's merchant marine policy was assailed by Senator Harding today in a front porch speech in which he declared that this and other issues of the campaign were too big to be "obscured by any sort of a vaudeville performance on the part of anyone."

Charging that the shipping board has been "a continual fiasco," he said that with efficient management the nation's marine resources should have permitted the establishment of shipping lines to all parts of the world as soon as the war was over. One of his first acts as chief executive, he said, would be to inaugurate a policy that would "unfurl the flag again on every sea."

The Republican nominee also reiterated his charges of extravagance and blundering by the Democrats, and declared his purpose to establish an economical and efficient business administration. Touching on the high cost of living, he said that while no cure-all had been found, governmental and individual thrift, and a protective tariff, would go a long way toward lowering prices.

Gathering Cheers Candidate

The speech was made to a gathering of West Virginians who cheered the candidate's thrusts at Democratic rule, and his pledges of reform. The delegation came overland in a motor party which included more than 500 automobiles, and before the front porch meeting, rode past the Harding residence in parade with fog horns and trumpets shrieking their greeting to the nominee. The address to Senator Harding was delivered by Judge J. W. Vandervoort of Parkersburg, who promised a Republican victory in West Virginia.

Tomorrow, the senator will speak to a delegation of several thousand members of the Harding and Coolidge Traveling Men's League, who will be brought here by more than 30 special trains. Local arrangements have been made for one of the biggest day's front porch campaigns.

It was revealed at Harding headquarters tonight that although the candidate is to make numerous out-of-town speeches after this week, tomorrow's meeting will not mark the end of the front porch program. A delegation of women from many parts of the country is to be addressed here on October 1 on social welfare subjects, and on October 18 the nominee will speak to a gathering of first voters. Another meeting, and it was said probably the last on the front porch schedule, will take place on October 19, when the senator will speak to a delegation from the eighth Ohio congressional district.

Two Speeches in Ohio

Two speaking dates in Ohio, one in West Jefferson on October 2, and one at Jackson on October 20, also have been arranged. The former meeting is expected to be attended by many voters from the northern part of the state, and that on October 20 will be a gathering of Southern Ohioans.

Officials at Harding headquarters said unusual preparations were being made for the meeting on October 1, the plans for which were set forth in the following official statement:

"Harding headquarters today announced what will probably be the most important speech the Republican candidate will make before election. On October 1, to a gathering of prominent women and widely-varying political affiliations, coming to Marion from all parts of the country, Senator Harding will present his views on questions connected with health, sanitation, education, women and children in industry, and kindred subjects.

"The day has been set aside by the women of the nation regardless of political party affiliations, as Social Justice Day, and on that occasion thousands of local women will march as a non-political group, to the front porch, to hear the senator's views on social justice. Local factories and industries will be closed on that day in order to permit attendance of women workers who are anxious to hear at first hand Senator Harding's pronouncements on these subjects, which are so vital to women voters."

"A committee consisting of Mrs. Richard Edwards, chairman; Mrs. Raymond Robbins, and Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, is perfecting the arrangements for the day."

Cleveland, Sept. 24. — Walter Mills, Cleveland's left-handed recruit pitcher, was too much for the Chicago White Sox today, and they lost their opportunity to take the lead in the American league championship race in this series, by losing to the Indians, 2 to 0. Chicago is now one and one-half games behind the leaders, and were they to win tomorrow's game they would be one-half game behind Cleveland.

Mills had the White Sox batters badly puzzled and won his fifth consecutive victory since joining the local team. He allowed only three hits and struck out six men, the hits coming in the first and fourth innings. Jackson collected a single in the first with two men out. In the fourth, Eddie Collins and Felsch gathered one each. Spectacular fielding by Weaver, Jackson, Smith, Sewell and Wambegans cut down several hits. Approximately 20,000 fans saw the contest. New York, Sept. 24. — Babe Ruth's two home runs today, bringing his season's total to 51, failed to aid the New York Yankees in their almost hopeless chase after Cleveland and Chicago. The Yankees were only able to break even with Washington, losing the first game, 3 to 1, and taking the second, 2 to 1. Ruth's double in the ninth inning of the last game was his fourth hit of the game, and he reached third on an error and scored the winning run on Pratt's single. Ruth and Pratt were the only Yankees able to hit Shaw, who struck out eight men.

Ruth made a homer, a double and two singles, and Pratt three singles. Washington won the first game by bunching three hits with two errors in the first inning for two runs. In New York's half, Ruth batted his fifteenth home run, but Acosta was invincible in the remaining innings. PRICE CUTTING AFFECTS MARKET

General Movement Now Under Way Has Bad Effect on Issues in the Street

New York, Sept. 24. — Trading in stocks today was again influenced to an extraordinary extent by the campaign against commodity prices. Shares of various industrial companies which are likely to be affected by the movement, recorded further severe declines on lack of support.

The reaction was materially accelerated by heavy short selling, that element evidently proceeding on the assumption that lower price schedules necessarily foreshadow further reductions or suspension of dividends.

Liquidation or sales for the long account originated in large part, according to reports, from western and other remote sections of the country, where extensive price cutting of many leading staples is in full swing.

The financial needs of various industrial companies were again indicated by an offering of some 50,000 shares of new stock by Kelly Springfield tire, one of the prominent motor accessory concerns.

Kelly Springfield was the weakest stock in the entire list, recording a net loss of 6 1/2 points at 56, or a total decline of 29 points from last week's final price. Affiliated issues, such as Fisk, Goodrich, Ajax and U. S. Rubber, were lower by one to three points.

Steels, equipments, coppers, tobaccos, leathers and paper issues, were carried down in the general recession, but rails were very irregular, some of the cheaper eastern, western and southwestern shares rising, while others of the same groups fell back. Total sales amounted to 650,000 shares.

Further strength and activity were shown by the bond market. Liberty issues again leading at gains extending from one-half to one and one-fourth points. Many of the convertible railway bonds also made notable gains, but internationals moved within a narrow range. Total sales, par value, aggregated $15,250,000.

Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

LOCAL EDITORIAL MENTION.

Continuation School Work.

It may not be amiss to call attention again to something which the city school authorities would seem to have sufficiently emphasized. This is the continuation school, and the small number of young men and women of proper age in the city who have as yet enrolled there or attended the sessions. Only ten, the records show, and not all of these were present last Saturday. No one believes that in the city of Oneonta there are only ten children between the ages of 16 and 19 who are now employed and therefore not in regular attendance on the sessions of the public schools. The school officials are aware of this anomalous condition, which they have good reason to believe is deliberate evasion of the law, and the investigation which through the attendance officer they have set afoot may have unpleasant results to all concerned in such evasion of the law. The state requires the maintenance of these schools, the city pays liberally for them, and it proposes to see that the provisions of the law are obeyed.

The End of the Fair.

The end of the fair in Oneonta, which came yesterday, was in fact the end of one of the most satisfactory of these annual events. For one thing, the weather from the first was delightful, the stormy days of September apparently were over, and not even the traditional storms of the equinox prevailed in this section at least of the state. As a result, there was a large attendance every day, and there was neither cloud to darken nor rain to dampen anybody's enjoyment. Thousands came to the fair each day, saw old friends and new attractions and went away thoroughly satisfied and with determination next year to come again.

One feature which by many was commended, was that despite the notable advance in practically everything, the admission fee was not changed. For 25 cents—the sum that was paid six, seven or twenty-five years ago, anybody could enter the gates, and there was a more attractive exhibit, more to see, than ever before.

The manufacturers of a certain widely-known motor vehicle only a few days ago advertised a big cut in price. This the Oneonta fair did not have to do. It "hung to the binder" in the dark days, and since it never asked more it has not been obliged to come down.

One Other Thing.

There is one other thing which is notable in connection with the fair, and that is the comparatively small number of motor car accidents, and none of them serious, which have been reported. For this there are two reasons at least—one that the motor traffic cops have been well on their jobs, have kept their heads and even in the midst of what seemed hopeless confusion and tangle of vehicles have kept things moving and everybody with briefest period of waiting, have been motioned on their way. The Oneonta force is not a large one and its energies and attention are often of necessity diverted, but everybody spoke well of the efficient and good-humored way in which it handled the crowds.

The other is—at least we like to think, that drivers are becoming more careful, more familiar with the requirements of the law and more regardful of the rights of others. Put the two things together, good work on the part of the police and consideration on that of the public, and it is no wonder that things went right.

And Still Another.

There were a few cases of drunkenness in Oneonta during fair week. It was natural even in these dry times that there should be; but they were so few that their absence rather than their presence was notable. The police had very little trouble, as compared with earlier days, in this regard; and no doubt the very fact that drinking has gone out is cause for the generally prosperous and contented appearance of the big crowds at the fair. And, to go back to the preceding subject, perhaps the lack of spirit was one reason at least for the concurrent lack of accidents on streets and highways.

Infantile Paralysis Cases.

There were about a dozen children of Oneonta and vicinity present at the infantile paralysis clinic held yesterday at the Nurses' home at the Fox Memorial hospital. Dr. Hubbard of the State Health department at Albany was the surgeon in charge and Miss Mary M. Kenney, also of the department, was supervising nurse. All the cases examined showed satisfactory improvement and several of them are pronounced to be practically cured.

Dairymen's Meeting at Portlandville.

There will be a meeting of the Portlandville branch of the Dairymen's league Saturday, September 25, at 7:30 p. m. at Rose hall. By order of president, W. R. Porteus, sec.

URGED TO CUT WOOD FOR FUEL.

Owners of Woodlots Can Secure Fuel and Benefit Their Timber.

In view of the fuel shortage due to strikes and "vacations" in the coal fields, the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse is urging every woodlot owner to cut a supply of fuel wood between now and snowfall. Not only should sufficient wood for farm needs be cut, but a few extra cords cut by each farmer will build up an emergency fuel reserve for nearby towns and villages.

The College of Forestry, however, believes that the opportunity of selling wood of practically all species and of nearly every size makes a "wood lot cleaning" possible. Instead of cutting the larger trees or those closest to the road, an effort should be made to cut out the "weed trees" and those that are diseased, crooked or overtopped, leaving behind the straight thrifty trees of good marketable variety for a future sale as valuable timber for industrial uses.

The old adage that "trees will grow while the farmer sleeps," should be borne in mind, since many a farm owner in New York state possesses a wood lot whose full value he by no means appreciates.

In harvesting fuel wood as well as all products of the farm and forest, care should be taken in the marketing. The wood utilization service conducted by the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse endeavors to act as a clearing house between buyer and seller in order that a fair price for farm wood lot products may be secured.

MORE EGGS FROM LESS FEED.

Get Rid of Fowls That Stopped Laying in Early Summer.

If poultry flocks have not already been culled, now is the time to do it, and the hens to cull out are the ones that first stopped laying, say the most successful poultry men. The best hens are the ones that are still laying. In the past few years poultry raisers have found that culling out their poor hens early has resulted in more eggs laid, less feed used and more money made.

In culling now, one should get rid of the birds that show by their deep-yellow legs, new glossy plumage, and thick, blunt pelvic arches that they stopped laying early in the summer. The hens that are laying have full, bright, waxy combs, soft, pliable abdomens, and bleached-out shanks. A ragged bird that has just begun to molt should not be culled now just because she is not laying.

Where a small breeding flock can be cared for it is best to mate up a pen of hens that do not stop laying until October, November or December. Such a pen will improve the laying quality of next year's chicks, according to the Cornell authorities.

The Clergymen Go Home.

The members of the New York Lutheran synod, who for the past week have been present at the conference in Oneonta, left, practically all of them, for home on Friday, though a few still remain as guests of friends in the city. To a man the visitors expressed pleasure as to the reception accorded them, and, though their duties kept them pretty steadily at the church, they were enthusiastic over the city itself.

Much interest was manifested by the departing clergymen over the proposal to raise half a million dollars for Hartwick seminary, a large number of them were alumni of Hartwick, but their enthusiasm was scarcely greater than that of those educated elsewhere.

Red Cross Renders Service.

The Red Cross tent at the fair grounds rendered a valuable service to the public. In addition to the distribution of much printed matter relative to the activities of the organization by ladies of the local chapter, Miss Stalder, the nurse in attendance daily from 12 m. to 5 p. m., gave aid to 19 cases, two of which were quite serious, one woman being at very low ebb, and it was with difficulty that she was revived. One woman yesterday suffered from a badly sprained ankle, but was helped and was able to walk from the grounds. Most of the cases were of people who had fainted.

Scott has been promoted from junior assistant engineer, grade 1, to assistant engineer, grade 1, at an annual salary of $2,400, effective September 1st, 1920. He is now assigned in charge of the construction of the cement state road between Cooperstown and Randolph Springs. — [Courier.

Miss Louise Homer To Wed

The engagement of Miss Louise Homer, daughter of the well-known prima donna, to Mr. Ernest Van Rensselaer Stiles, son of the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stiles, has caused some surprise among their friends. Miss Homer, however, will not allow her marriage to interfere with her public career as a singer.

Seeing a Hole in a Ladder

There is a darn big difference between me and politics. Politics are run by bosses and grafters who self-interest keeps them on the job, as it is their bread and butter, also their jam. They succeed through the indifference and carelessness of the public and in getting help from selfish and powerful money interests. I plod along, burn the midnight oil, with just an ideal. I uselessly help the little fellow and teach him to help himself, so that he won't get ugly and go with the Reds. I have to meet the same indifference and carelessness of the public, but have no graft or pork barrel to help me. Self interest keeps the politician on the job, while with me it's the betterment of the little fellow and giving him a fair chance and a square deal, thus helping to make the U. S. A. all O. K. and keeping it from going to the Reds. Yes, it's an ideal and I have to meet the indifference of the public, but I'm going to keep on the job until I could public opinion to demand the same publicity and conspicuous headlines from the newspapers that they now give the politicians. Those who don't think will probably stick up their nose and sneer at me, but just pause this in your hat and the day will come when you'll be kicking yourselves because you didn't see a hole in a ladder and tumble to the ground features of my ideal. I am the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association.

"BETTY BE GOOD"

Big New York Success at Oneonta Theatre Tuesday Evening, Sept. 28.

One of the biggest successes New York has known in years is Stewart and Morrison's musical comedy "Betty Be Good," which comes to the Oneonta theatre Tuesday night, September 28. The impetus of "Betty Be Good" never rests; it begins with spirit and ends with spirit; each act with its beautiful music! numbers and comedy is a wave of fun, and the complications intensely droll. Harry B. Smith, author of "Robin Hood" wrote the book and lyrics, and the beautiful score is by Hugo Eisenfeld, musical director of the Rialto and Rivoli theatres, New York. The cast needs little mention, it's the same great one that presented the play during its long run at the Casino theatre, New York, last season, headed by beautiful Rena Parker and Eddie Garvie. And the chorus? Why speak of the chorus—words cannot describe the beautiful young things that dance their way into the hearts of the audience.

"My Lady Friends"

"My Lady Friends," the light comedy to be acted at the Oneonta theatre Thursday, September 30, is an adaptation by Frank Mandel of a Hungarian piece. It was well received in New York last season where it ran from November to May. The principal part, which was played by the late Clifton Crawford, now falls to George Clark, hitherto of the musical pieces and the vaudeville stage.

Undergoes Serious Operation

Perley, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Andrus of 310 Chestnut street, who had been ill for several days, underwent an operation for acute mastoiditis at the Wanaa sanitarium on Wednesday. The operating surgeon was Dr. O. C. Tarbox. The lad is making a good recovery and his many friends will be glad to know that he expects soon to return to his home.

seconds on Holsteins, three seconds on Ayrshires, two seconds on Shorthorns, seven firsts and two seconds on Herefords.

A. J. Fenne of Walton with his Dutch Belted won seven firsts and two seconds.

Nicholas Dicks of Walton took five firsts and one second on Polled Jerseys and two firsts and one second on Brown Swisses.

Charles H. Naylor of West Laurens was awarded eight firsts and one second on his Aberdeen-Angus, including the herd prize.

The Horse Show.

While it is true that the motor has caused a loss of interest in horses and in the horse show at the fair and perhaps the interest is not so keen to have a fine roadster or span as in former years, nevertheless some fine animals were seen at the show yesterday morning. Starter Laffitt, who judged the animals, said that he believed there were many good horses about this section for he had seen those that would have made contenders had they been entered. He advised that an effort be made to enlist the owners of horses hereabouts in the contest and make the show one worth seeing.

Following are the winners:

H. W. Sheldon secured first for best pair, five years or older, for light driving; second on gelding or mare, 15 hands or over, in general purpose class; second on gelding or mare, five years old, in general purpose class; first on best pair of draft horses; first on best pair, four years old, for general purposes; first on gelding or mare, four years old, for general purposes.

Dr. G. W. Simmons of Oneonta was awarded first on gelding or mare, four years or older, able to show 4-minute gait, M. J. Esmy of Phoenix Mills won second in that class and John M. Lehr of Portlandville third.

Harry Burts of Oneonta won first in best gelding or mare, 15 hands, for general purposes and first on same five years old or older.

Samuel Howe of Oneonta won first on gelding or mare, two years old, in roadster class, (Robbins Brothers of Walton getting second), and first also on brood mare in roadster class.

Earl Nichols of Oneonta won second on pair, five years old or older, in roadster class.

Robbins Brothers of Walton won first on best pair colts under four years old for light driving.

O. Beebe of Lebanon won first on best stallion, five years old or older, in roadster class, also third on gelding or mare, five years or older, in general purpose class.

G. W. Sigbee of South Side was awarded first on best three-year-old stallion in general purpose class.

F. Chamberlain & Son of Maryland secured first on gelding or mare, four years old, in general purpose class.

VanEtten Brothers of Oneonta were awarded second on best pair draft horses.

R. Signor of Delhi was awarded first for best pair, five years old or older, for general purposes, and A. F. Matteson of Oneonta second in the same class.

Emory W. Coe of Oneonta secured second on best pair, four years old, for general purposes.

Some Poultry Winners.

The expense of shipping also affected the showing of poultry, which was not quite up to standard in quantity at least. Some of the largest winners were Cook Bros. of North Franklin, W. A. Shafer of Lower Chestnut street, Lysle Gifford, D. C. Lake and Paul Hanes. William A. Francis was the efficient judge of the exhibit.

Health Found in Sun's Rays.

Sun-gaze has its influence on health resorts in Europe. In France, medical specialists have recommended the resorts of Brittany and Normandy for a long time instead of the hot and glaring sands of the southern coasts. This is the choice especially for children and for persons over fifty whose sight is growing dim. Less attention has been given the matter in England, but preference for places on the east and west coasts instead of in the south is growing for people with weak eyes.

What I Owe to My Parents.

"One good mother is worth a hundred schoolmasters." The truth of this time-honored proverb is borne out by the tributes which successful men pay to the influence of their mothers.

Looks That Way.

To a person, five feet tall standing on the beach at seaside, the horizon is about two and three-quarters miles away.
